1. 1.FRESHERS DAY – 15.03.2022

Objective or nature of the activity curricular/Extension to community:

Fresher's Day is a special occasion in the academic calendar of any educational institution as it marks the beginning of a new academic year. It is an opportunity to welcome new students and help them to adapt to the college environment. During this event, various activities are conducted to help students learn new skills, make friends, and feel a sense of belonging. Fresher's Day is a special event that marks the beginning of a new academic year. It provides an opportunity for new students to familiarize themselves with their college environment, meet their fellow students and faculty members, and learn about the values that the college upholds.

Skills achieved :

The skills that can be achieved through Fresher's Day activities are as follows:

1. Communication Skills: Fresher's Day provides an opportunity for students to interact with their seniors, faculty members, and fellow students. This helps them to develop communication skills and learn the art of effective communication, which is essential in all aspects of life.
2. Teamwork: Fresher's Day activities encourage students to work together in teams to achieve common goals. These activities provide an opportunity to learn how to work effectively in a team, develop leadership skills, and build trust and mutual respect.
3. Time Management: Fresher's Day activities are designed to be time-bound, which helps students learn the importance of time management. It teaches them to prioritize their tasks, manage their time efficiently, and balance their academic and personal lives.

4. Creativity: Fresher's Day activities also encourage students to be creative and think outside the box. This helps to develop their problem-solving skills and to approach challenges in a creative and innovative way

Values achieved :

This report aims to highlight some of the values that can be achieved through Fresher's Day celebrations.

Values Achieved:

1. Respect: Fresher's Day events provide an opportunity for students to interact with their seniors and faculty members. This interaction fosters mutual respect and understanding, which is essential in any community.
2. Inclusivity: Fresher's Day celebrations promote inclusivity, which is the cornerstone of any academic community. These events are designed to bring students from diverse backgrounds together, providing an opportunity for them to learn from one another and embrace diversity.
3. Responsibility: Fresher's Day events encourage students to take responsibility for their actions and be accountable for their behavior. This helps to develop a sense of responsibility, which is a crucial value that is required for academic success and personal growth.
4. Empathy: Fresher's Day activities promote empathy, which is a value that is necessary for building meaningful relationships. These activities provide an opportunity for students to put themselves in someone else's shoes, understand their perspective, and respond with kindness and compassion.
5. Integrity: Fresher's Day events promote integrity, which is essential in any academic community. These activities encourage students to be honest, transparent, and ethical in their actions and behavior.

Conclusion: In conclusion, Fresher's Day celebrations provide an opportunity for new students to learn about the values that the college upholds. These values are essential for building a healthy and inclusive academic community. We hope that the values that students have learned on this day will guide them throughout their academic and personal lives.

2.Farewell Day : 07.07.2022

Objective or nature of the activity curricular/Extension to community:

Farewell day in a government degree college is usually an event organized to bid farewell to the final year students who are about to graduate and leave the college. The objective of the farewell day is to celebrate the achievements and memories of the outgoing batch and to wish them success in their future endeavors.

The nature of farewell day can vary depending on the college's culture and traditions, but it typically involves a mix of cultural performances, speeches, and other activities. Students may organize skits, dance performances, and other creative presentations to showcase their talents and memories of their time in college. Teachers and college staff members may also give speeches and share their best wishes for the graduating students.

Farewell day is an emotional occasion, both for the graduating students who are leaving their college life behind and for the college community who will miss their presence. It is a time to reflect on the students' achievements, contributions, and personal growth during their time in college, and to wish them the best for their future. skills.

Skills achieved :

Farewell day in a government degree college can provide students with the opportunity to develop and showcase various skills, including:

- 1. Event management: Planning and organizing a farewell day event requires coordination, communication, and attention to detail. Students who take on leadership roles in organizing the event can develop skills in event management that can be useful in their future careers.
- 2. Public speaking: Farewell day events often involve speeches, and students who participate in them can develop their public speaking skills. This includes the ability to communicate clearly and effectively, to use appropriate body language, and to engage with an audience.
- 3. Creative expression: Students may showcase their creative skills through cultural performances, skits, or other creative presentations. This can help students develop skills in creativity, teamwork, and performance.
- 4. Interpersonal skills: Farewell day events provide students with the opportunity to interact with teachers, staff, and their peers. This can help students develop interpersonal skills such as communication, collaboration, and conflict resolution.
- 5. Emotional intelligence: Farewell day events can be emotional, and students may need to demonstrate empathy and emotional intelligence to navigate the various feelings and reactions that may arise during the event.

In addition to these specific skills, farewell day events can also help students develop their overall confidence, leadership, and organizational skills.

Values achieved :

Farewell day in a government degree college can also help students develop important values that are useful both in their personal and professional lives. Some of these values include:

- 1. Gratitude: Farewell day events provide an opportunity for students to express their gratitude to teachers, staff, and fellow students. This helps to develop a sense of appreciation and respect for others, which can be a valuable quality in personal and professional relationships.
- 2. Empathy: Farewell day events can be emotional, and students may need to show empathy towards their peers who are leaving or towards those who will remain at the college. This helps to develop a sense of understanding and compassion for others, which can help in building strong relationships and resolving conflicts.
- 3. Collaboration: Farewell day events require collaboration between students, teachers, and staff to plan and execute. This helps to develop a sense of teamwork and collaboration, which is essential in both personal and professional contexts.
- 4. Respect: Farewell day events are an opportunity to show respect for the achievements, contributions, and personalities of the graduating students. This helps to develop a sense of respect and appreciation for the diversity of individuals and cultures.
- 5. Integrity: Farewell day events provide an opportunity to reflect on the values and principles that are important in life. Students can develop a sense of integrity and honesty by reflecting on the experiences and lessons learned during their time in college.

In summary, farewell day in a government degree college can help students develop values that are essential for personal growth and professional success, such as gratitude, empathy, collaboration, respect, and integrity.

Principal Report:

Good morning to all dignitaries on the dias and off the dias.

I feel it a great privilege to be here with you on the occasion of our temple the 55th Annual day celebration.

As a principal of this esteemed institution, after I assumed charge within a span 10 months, I would like to ascertain the developments of this institution with the Annual Report of the Academic year 2021-22.

As you know this institution was established near 1968, by the great philanthropist Sri Addepalli Satyanarayana Murthy Garu, sowed as a small plant after more than 5 decades, It became a big tree and has given the fruits spread to all over the Asia from this remote area of Palakol.
