The Consumer Club and the Department of Commerce successfully organized an Essay Writing Competition on December 20, 2024, at the college level to create awareness among students regarding consumer-related issues in online commerce. The competition aimed to educate participants about challenges such as fraud, deceptive advertisements, lack of transparency, and poor customer service. Additionally, the event sought to foster a deeper understanding of safe online practices, ensuring that students are well-equipped to navigate the digital marketplace securely.

The event was graced by the presence of Dr. T. Raja Rajeswari, Principal, who served as the resource person and encouraged students to engage critically with the topic. A total of 28 students participated in the competition, demonstrating their analytical and creative writing skills by addressing pressing concerns in e-commerce and proposing innovative solutions. The competition not only enhanced students' ability to articulate their thoughts effectively but also helped them develop essential skills such as critical thinking, problem-solving, and time management, as they were required to prepare and submit their essays within the given deadline.

Through this activity, participants gained valuable insights into the dynamics of online commerce, including its advantages and potential risks. They explored various strategies to enhance consumer protection and proposed solutions to improve transparency and customer service in the digital marketplace. Furthermore, the competition encouraged students to think outside the box and develop practical, innovative approaches to tackling e-commerce challenges. The event proved to be a meaningful learning experience, equipping students with knowledge and skills that would benefit them as responsible consumers and future contributors to the evolving world of digital commerce.

Consumer Club and the Department of Commerce

The Consumer Club and the Department of Commerce successfully organized an Elocution Competition on December 20, 2024, at the college level, with the objective of promoting eco-friendly and ethical purchasing habits while empowering individuals to make informed decisions and stand against consumer exploitation. This initiative was aimed at raising awareness among students about responsible consumption, encouraging them to advocate for sustainable practices, and equipping them with the knowledge to protect their rights as consumers.

The competition was graced by the presence of Dr. T. Raja Rajeswari, Principal, who served as the resource person and emphasized the importance of ethical consumerism in today's marketplace. A total of 28 students actively participated in the event, delivering thought-provoking speeches that highlighted various aspects of ethical shopping, environmental sustainability, and consumer rights. Through their speeches, students effectively addressed critical issues such as the environmental impact of excessive consumerism, the importance of choosing fair-trade products, and the role of individuals in combating exploitation in supply chains.

This competition significantly contributed to the development of communication and leadership skills among participants. By researching, preparing, and presenting their speeches, students improved their public speaking abilities, gained confidence in articulating their thoughts, and learned how to engage an audience effectively. Furthermore, participation in such discussions and advocacy efforts helped them foster leadership skills, encouraging them to take initiative in organizing awareness campaigns, educational workshops, and social media discussions on consumer rights and sustainability.

Beyond skill development, the event instilled important values in the students. The emphasis on environmental consciousness encouraged participants to adopt sustainable consumption habits and spread awareness about the impact of their purchasing decisions on the planet. Additionally, the discussion of social justice issues—such as unfair trade practices, worker exploitation, and misleading advertisements—helped students develop a strong sense of equity and ethical responsibility. By understanding these challenges and proposing solutions, they took a step towards becoming more responsible citizens and advocates for consumer rights.

Overall, the Elocution Competition proved to be a highly enriching experience, enabling students to express their views on significant consumer-related issues while also developing essential skills and values that contribute to responsible decision-making in their personal and professional lives. The event was a testament to the power of awareness and advocacy in shaping a more informed, ethical, and environmentally conscious society.

The Consumer Club and the Department of Commerce successfully conducted an Online Awareness Program on Consumer Protection, Importance, Rights, and Consumer Grievance Redressal Mechanisms on December 23, 2024, at the college level. The primary objective of this program was to educate participants about the significance of consumer protection and rights, familiarize them with the Consumer Protection Act, 2019, and encourage the proactive use of grievance redressal mechanisms in case of consumer disputes. Additionally, the session aimed to instill awareness about the responsibilities of consumers in ensuring fair trade practices, thereby promoting ethical business transactions.

The event was honored by the presence of Sri Sabeeb Sultan Ali, a Supreme Court Advocate and the Founder of AASRAA (Consumer Rights Protection Organisation), who served as the resource person. His extensive expertise in consumer rights and legal frameworks provided valuable insights to the participants, making the session highly informative and impactful. The program witnessed enthusiastic participation from 96 students, reflecting a strong interest in understanding consumer protection laws and mechanisms.

Throughout the session, the participants gained in-depth knowledge of the Consumer Protection Act, 2019, including its key provisions and the eight fundamental consumer rights. The resource person emphasized the importance of being well-informed consumers and guided attendees on how to effectively address grievances related to fraudulent practices, misleading advertisements, and unfair trade. Through interactive discussions and a Q&A session, students were encouraged to analyze real-life consumer issues, which enhanced their critical thinking skills and ability to assess legal aspects of consumer rights.

One of the key takeaways from the program was the improved legal awareness among participants. They learned about various grievance redressal mechanisms, including consumer forums and online complaint portals, and the importance of obtaining proper bills and receipts for their purchases. This awareness is essential in empowering consumers to exercise their rights effectively and seek justice in case of disputes.

Beyond knowledge enhancement, the session also instilled important values among students. It fostered a sense of responsibility, making them more conscious of their roles as consumers and their duty to support fair trade practices. Additionally, it empowered them with the confidence to take proactive measures against unfair business practices, ensuring they are not exploited. Furthermore, the awareness generated through this session contributed to a broader societal impact by encouraging ethical consumption and legal literacy as essential components of consumer welfare.

In conclusion, the Online Awareness Program on Consumer Protection was an enlightening and empowering initiative that successfully educated students on consumer rights, legal frameworks, and grievance redressal mechanisms. The event played a crucial role in shaping responsible and informed consumers, equipping them with the necessary knowledge to safeguard their interests while promoting fair trade practices in society.
