Functions

The faculty who are involved in research has an accountability to encourage a healthy environment which promotes intellectual honesty and integrity. The researcher should resist from indulging in activities which infringe on the copyrighted materials which would amount to misconduct in any aspect of research. The Research misconduct may mean and inclusive of any behavior of the researcher that borders conflicts of interest, fabrication, falsification, plagiarism in proposing, performing, or reviewing research, or in reporting research results. Research misconduct does not include honest differences in interpretations or judgments of data.

The College shall take seriously all incidents of research misconduct, and shall ensure that the procedures for the inquiry, investigation and adjudication of any misconduct are just for all parties involved. Sri A.S.N.M Government College not only views research misconduct as extremely troubling but also views the same as a threat to the basic principles of research and the ethical standards the College strives to maintain and promote.
