Introduction :-

Chemistry is the scientific study of the characteristics and behaviour of matter. The human race has benefited from the application of chemical concepts when you think about cleaning products like toothpaste, home bleaches, soaps and detergents likely come to mind. Naturally, illness and diseases make us think of medications, again chemically. Chemicals are used in explosives, fuels, rocket propellants.

2. Drugs and their classification :-

Drugs are molecules with molecular masses between 100 and 500 u. These cause a biological reaction when they engage with macromolecular targets.

classification of drugs :-

Based on the pharmacological outcome, Based on how a medicine acts, predicted on the chemical structure, predicted on molecular targets.

3. Therapeutic action of different classes of drugs.1. Antacids, 2. Antihistamines.

Antacids, Such as Sodium hydrogen carbonate or a combination of magnesium hydroxide & aluminium hydroxide, were the treatments available for acidity until 1970.

4. Neurologically active drugs :-a) Tranquilizers - b) Analgesics.

Drugs with neurological effects include analgesics and tranquilizers. These have an impact on how messages are transferred from nerves to receptors.

5. Chemicals in Food.a) Artificial sweetening agentsb) Food preservatives6) cleaning agentsa) Soapsb) Synthetic detergents.
